HOPKINSVILLE, KY.DEMPSEY CONVENTION.

THE NOMINATION MADE ON THE FIFTH BALLOT.

Free Silver Resolution Passed by a Two-thirds Vote, Afterwards Made Unanimous —Opposition Party From Conservative Silver Men.

The Railroad district convention was called to order at Owensboro Wednesday at 2 p. m. by Chairman Henry Burnett.

General Thos. E. Moss, of Paducah, was made temporary chairman and Chas. M. Mescham, of Hopkinsville, was made temporary secretary and other members of the democratic press assistants. The following committee on credentials was appointed: First District, W. M. Reed, of Marshall; Second District, Malcolm Yeaman, of Henderson; Third District S. R. Cawdon, of Logan; Fourth District, H. A. Somers, of Hardin.
The convention then took a recess, waiting the report of the committee.
At 4:15 the committee on credentials reported that there were no contests and that all the counties were represented in person or by proxy. On motion of J. E. Rowe, of Davies, the temporary organization was made permanent. On motion a call of the counties was then begun for nominations. Ollie James, of Crittenden, nominated Dr. R. L. Moore; John S.
Rhea, of Logan, J. F. Dempsey; C.
N. Fendleton, of Davies, F. B. Richardson; Charles K. Wheeler, of Mc-Cracken, W. G. Morrow; W. M. Reed, of Benton, Tipton A. Miller.

The roll was then called on the first ballot and resulted as follows: Dempsey, 116 3-5; Richardson, 60 3-5; Morrow, 29 1-10; Miller, 34 1-10; Moore, 29 3-5. Before the call was completed Mr. McElroy authorized the withdrawal of his name. Allen county was unrepresented. Mr. McElroy declining to cast the vote of that county. After the first ballot the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The convention reassembled promptly at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, but as many of the delegates were late straggling in, a recess of thirty minutes was taken.

When order was again called the convention immediately proceeded to take the second ballot for railroad commissioner. It resulted as follows:
Dempsey, 117 3-5; Richardson, 60 3-5; Morrow, 29 1-10; Miller, 34 1-10; Moore, 29 3-5. The next ballot resulted as follows:
Dempsey, 117 3-5; Richardson, 60 3-5; Morrow, 29 1-10; Miller, 34 1-10; Moore, 29 3-5.

Under the rule adopted upon reassembling Morrow being the hindmost man, was dropped. By the fourth ballot resulted as follows:

Dempsey, 104 3-4; Richardson, 68 3-4; Miller, 46 3-4; Moore, 57 1-4. Warren county, which had been voting for Dempsey, on this ballot changed to Moore. Miller, under the rule, was then dropped.

The fifth ballot was as follows:
Dempsey, 107 2-3; Richardson, 85 2-3; Moore, 82 2-3.

Ten of the Miller and Morrow votes had gone to Moore and Dempsey's friends loaned him Simpson and Warren in order that he might outlive Richardson.

Ollie James then withdrew Moore's name and moved Dempsey's nomination by acclamation.

After the second ballot John S.
Rhea, of Logan, had offered the following resolutions, explaining that he would not press their adoption until after a nomination had been made:
The Democrats of the First railroad commissioner district, in convention assembled, recommend the following to the Democracy of the State.

1st. We declare with unflinching trust that it is a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue duties.

2nd. We endorse the repeal of the McKinley law and the reduction of tariff duties accomplished by a Democratic congress, and demand that the reform thus begun shall be vigorously carried forward until the levy and collection of tariff taxes shall be limited to the actual necessities of the government when honestly and economically administered.

Third—We declare it to be an elementary principle of Democracy's faith that both gold and silver coin shall constitute the primary money of the country, that both metals shall be received for mintage without discriminating against either, and at the legal ratio that existed prior to 1873 (16 to 1), and we demand the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver at this legal ratio, and that both metals be declared full legal tender in payment of all debts public and private.

As soon as Dempsey was declared the nominee Rhea was up demanding to be heard upon his resolutions, but Henry Burnett, of McCracken, moved an immediate adjournment.

Then pandemonium broke loose.
Every delegate was on his feet, yelling at the top of his voice. Rhea mounted the secretary's table immediately in front of the chairman, still demanding to be heard, and Capt.
Ellis, who was the author of the resolutions, joined him vigorously protesting.

The chair recognized Burnett in spite of the wild disorder and ordered the call of counties. The delegates could not make themselves heard, but went to the clerk's desk and voted.

The ballot resulted, for adjournment 96, against 181.

This restored order and Rhea then spoke to his resolutions. He made a red-hot silver speech which was loudly cheered.

Then Charley Wheeler, of Mc-Cracken, announcing that he was a free silver man, offered in a spirit of harmony, he said, the following:
"Resolved, That the failure of this convention to take action upon the financial question is not to be considered as antagonistic to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, but believed the state convention alone should settle such questions, the matter is respectfully referred to that body."

This resolution was the result of a conference held by the conservative silver men the night before. It was supported by Mr. Wheeler in an eloquent speech and the gold bugs at once turned to this as the best showing for them to defeat the obnoxious resolutions.

Before the vote was taken there were other speeches. Ollie James, of Crittenden, made an impassive and eloquent appeal to the friends of silver to stand by their principles and was lustily applauded.

Judge Lige Walker, of Barford, claiming to be "a gold bug," protested against the resolution, and urged that it was out of place in a district convention, and without precedent. He made a long argument, in which he incidentally remarked that he saw his son-in-law (Jake Rowe) was nearly bustin' to make a speech on the other side of the case.
Jake Rowe followed Judge Walker and addressed much of his speech to "my dear father-in-law," amid uproarious laughter and applause. He wanted to know what "my dear father-in-law with all his gold is for," and in expressing his surprise said he had learned most all he knew in favor of silver from his "gold-bug" parent by marriage. Rowe appealed for an expression on silver and deprecated any cowardice on the subject. He said the gold men were here pleading for a postponement until the state convention, but at the state convention would be pleading for a postponement until the national convention.

The previous question was then ordered and a vote taken. The subsequent vote was lost by a close vote of 143 1-6 to 125 5-6, Todd county not voting.

Judge Walker then moved to separate the resolutions and vote upon them by sections. This of course meant an attempt to strike out the silver resolution. Upon this occurred the only real test vote, as the Wheeler substitute was introduced by an honest money man, without the knowledge of the sound (1) money crowd that it was coming.

The vote was as follows, by counties:

	Aye.	No.
Allen	5	6
Ballard	1	10
Barren	1	5
Breckinridge	2	5
Butler	1	4
Carlisle	1	12
Christian	5	6
Crittenden	5	6
Calloway	8	8
Davies	5	8
Edmonson	3	2
Fulton	3	2
Grayson	2	6
Graves	2	11
Hardin	7	7
Hart	7	2
Hancock	2	2
Henderson	5	6
Hopkins	5	6
Hickman	5	6
Larue	4	11
Logan	4	11
Lyon	4	24
Meade	2	6
Metcalfe	2	3
Monroe	7	4
Muhlenberg	5	4
McLean	5	4
Marshall	5	4
McCracken	9	8
Ohio	8	6
Simpson	11	6
Todd	11	15
Trigg	11	15
Union	11	15
Warren	11	15
Webster	11	15
Total	91	178

Upon the announcement of this result, Mr. Wheeler, before the call began on the original resolutions, changed his vote to the silver side, and moved to adopt them unanimously.

This motion prevailed amid much enthusiasm. In this, McCracken county's vote—which had been cast by Mr. Wheeler—was changed, making the test vote stand at 96 votes taken from one column and added to the other, 82 to 187, not 162 as erroneously reported in several papers.) The counties of Fulton, Hardin and Hopkins were divided on account of having candidates, though they were all for silver. Metcalfe was voted by an Owensboro delegate with a proxy, having no instructions on the question.
He represented his own and not that county's views. Ohio and Calloway were voted as a unit over the protests of some of the delegates. Todd was equally divided and agreed not to vote. The real anti-silver strength was perhaps 70 delegate votes, or about one-fourth of the 277. These votes were represented by not exceeding 40 delegates. It is an exceedingly liberal estimate to put the goldbugs in the convention at 60.

After the vote was taken a committee was sent for Judge Dempsey and he appeared before the convention and graciously accepted the nomination for railroad commissioner.

The thanks of the convention to the chairman and secretaries and to the citizens of Owensboro were voted and then the convention adjourned sine die.

HOWERTON HANGED.

A Jailor Tries to Fool a Mob, But Is Made To Deliver the Prisoner.

MAHON, Ky., May 16.—Jonathan Howerton, who assaulted 15-year-old Anna Pierce, of Repton, two weeks ago, and for whose arrest a reward was offered by County Judge Moore, was captured in a corn field in Nigger Wool Swamp, Mo., by Carl Henderson, the railroad agent at Black-ford, Ky., and brought here and lodged in jail late yesterday evening.

About midnight a mob of 30 or 40 took him from the jail and hanged him to a beam in a slaughter house.
The mob was quiet and orderly throughout, and his grave was fired into the body of their victim, who died of strangulation. It was after 8 o'clock this morning when the body was cut down.

THE INDIAN FIERD.

Howerton was about 35 years old and had a bad reputation. He killed a negro in this county some years ago, with a club, it is claimed, without provocation. He had also been accused of other crimes. Anna Pierce is a mere child. The Pierce family are of the same race as the negro and the dead man had started to accompany the girl home from a neighboring house, in company with other young fellows. His grave was managed to drop behind with Miss Pierce, out of hearing of the others, when he overpowered and choked her into submission.

The frightened and tortured girl struggled and fought her assailant with all her strength, and finally succeeded in pulling his grave clothes escaping through the woods and underbrush. The darkness of the night is all that saved her from repeated assaults. She was found some hours later by a searching party, composed of her family and friends, who, after giving her the necessary attention, proceeded to scour the woods for Howerton.

The search was kept up by citizens of that locality night and day until Howerton met his fate. The young girl is still in a very nervous state in a critical condition, with the chances against her recovery.

Charged with Hog Stealing.

Two negroes, Henry Owen and Martin Grant, were arrested near Guthrie with hog stealing. They were taken the intended bride-to-morrow.

HE SAW WASHINGTON.

Mr. Van Tuyl Is Lively at One Hundred and Fourteen.

When He Was a Boy a Grumpy Woman Told Him That He Would Live to Be the Oldest Man Alive—The Prophecy Fulfilled.

Benjamin Van Tuyl, who claims to be 114 years old, called recently upon James Pine, of Troy, N. Y., father of J. K. P. Pine, of Lexington. The elder Mr. Pine has known Benjamin for sixty years, and the younger Mr. Pine can remember the centenarian forty years.

Benjamin's knowledge of historical facts is somewhat limited. But he is well informed on the history of early agriculture in the Washington and Saratoga counties, N. Y., and he dwells with delight on the old-fashioned methods employed by the farmers in the early part of the century.

Old Mr. Van Tuyl, says the Troy (N. Y.) Times, was born on New Year's day, 1781—that is, a family Bible is said to record this momentous event, and Mr. Van Tuyl says that family Bibles never lie. The centenarian's birthplace was Argyle, Washington county. He says that he was a blacksmith by trade, and he kept a livery at Fort Miller. When Benjamin was very young he was set to work on his father's livery. He subsequently learned the business of carriage making, which trade he has worked at during most of his protracted life.

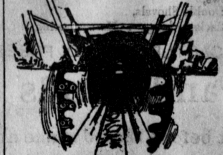

One of the most interesting events in Benjamin's career was his first and only sight of Washington. He says that his father was accustomed to drive cattle from Washington county to Albany, where they were sold. When Benjamin was thirteen years old his father took him to the old Dutch city. Gen. Washington was in the city at the time—according to Benjamin's best recollection—for the purpose of seeing some persons of prominence. The Father of His Country was dressed in uniform, and he smiled and looked grand while he shook the hands of the black and white people that filed by. And little Benjie crowded forward, and he man-made the Niagara river country the greatest manufacturing district in the world. The inlet to the company's plant is located some distance above the falls. From the inlet the water is conducted into large steel pipes and allowed to fall to gigantic turbines below, this process sufficing to generate power that can be conveyed to the dynamo at the surface by means of shafting. The water then dashes through gangways and enters the main tunnel, which is 91 feet high and from 14 to 18 feet wide, and lies 200 feet below the surface. It is horseshoe shaped, heavily lined with brick and protected with steel plates. After making through 7,000 feet of tunnel at a tremendous rate the water emerges into Niagara river considerably beneath the level of the stream. Its discharge creating 100,000 horse-power. Eventually the company will construct more tunnels to meet the steadily growing demand for power. Just above the turbines the power-house is located. This contains dynamo of enormous size, said to be larger even than the monsters exhibited at the world's fair at Chicago. From the dynamo the power is transmitted to distant points through the electrical subways.

NIAGARA'S POWER.

To Be Distributed Broadcast by Means of Electrical Subways.

The day is rapidly approaching when the Niagara Falls Power company will be able to supply power, light and heat to the innumerable towns and villages along the route of the Erie canal. The city of Buffalo is to receive current, aggregating many thousands of horse-power, from the same source. The Niagara Falls Power company began operations nearly five years ago, and has thus far expended over $4,000,000. Eventually it proposes to use the force of the falls to generate a half million horse-power, which will

Nervous People

And those who are all fired out and have that third feeling or sick headache can be relieved of all these symptoms by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives nerve, mental and bodily strength and thoroughly purifies the blood. It also creates a good appetite, cures indigestion, heartburn and dyspepsia.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy in action and sure in effect. 25c.

A Kissing Pair.

Helimgang, a Romanian country town of twelve hundred inhabitants, holds its annual fair on the feast of St. Theodore. On this occasion, a London weekly paper says, the place swarms with newly married brides from the sixty to eighty villages in the district. Widows who have taken fresh husbands remain at home. The young women, in festive attire and generally attended by their mothers-in-law, carry jugs of wine wreathed with flowers in their hands. They kiss every man they meet and afterward present the jug to his lips for a "sip." The individual thus regaled bestows a small gift on the fair cyclist. Not to take of the proffered wine is regarded as an insult to the young wife and her family. She is, therefore, reserved toward strangers and only kisses those whom she thinks likely to taste of her wine. The kissing is carried on everywhere—in the streets, in the taverns and in private houses.

Dr. Kollock in Nashville.
 The attention of the reader is especially called to the card of Dr. Mathew Henry Kollock, which is in another column. The Doctor is a native of Norfolk, Va., (1846) of a prominent Southern family of Savannah, Ga. He is quoted as a standard authority by "Encyclopedia Britannica," page 181, the "largest and most important work in the world," being in its volume, each the size of a large church Bible. He is noted as the discoverer of the active principle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm for the face and wash. The Doctor has been all over the world and has made many cures, especially at "get prings," given up by other physicians.

Persons who sympathize with the wicked will rejoice with the D. E. Carr of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but in Chamberlain's Pain Balm in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. It came upon him again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; some to touch or almost look to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three bottles, and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, Ed. R. Bogard, Lafayette, druggists.

Italy spends every year 14,000,000 lire on her army and navy. Twenty-five lire equal $5.

He says she was well in forty minutes after taking the first dose. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, Ed. R. Bogard, Lafayette.

The estimated cost of both sides of of the great civil war in this country was $6,500,000,000.

There is no danger in giving the remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, Ed. R. Bogard, Lafayette.

 Dr. Kilmer—I have used your Olive Branch for female complaints and consider myself now a well woman, whereas two years ago physicians gave me up telling me they could do nothing for me.

FREAK FROM BELGIUM.

Bible Text Tattooed on a Belgian Immigrant's Forehead.
 As his name indicates, Eugene Brusard, who arrived at New York recently from Rotterdam, is of French origin, though he was born in Antwerp, Belgium.
 He is a tall, rather handsome young man, and, rather, when examined by a doctor of inquiry at Ellis Island, that he was a skilled ironworker.
 The only noticeable peculiarity in his appearance was the fact of his being tattooed with a Bible text on his forehead, his forehead being completely hidden by the adornment.
 When he appeared in the Mr. Edward McSweney's office, the commissioner noticed this singularity, and asked the young man about it. Brusard looked embarrassed, and then replied, in French, that he wore his hair in his forehead to hide a mark on his brow.
 "What is the mark?" he was asked.
 He tossed his hair back and exhibited a skillfully-executed piece of tattooing, which on examination proved to be a text from the Bible.

done in minute but perfect letters. It was in French, and read:
 "Dieu est mon Berger, je n'aurai besoin de rien."
 "I have said, 'I shall not want.'" He stated that the tattooing was done at the request of a cranky aunt when he was twelve or thirteen years of age.

Wonders of Minute Animal Life.
 The following, which might very appropriately bear the heading of "A Wonder of Wonders," is from the pen of Sir Robert S. Ball, F. R. S., astronomer-royal of Ireland: "The microscope teaches us that there are animals so wonderfully minute that if a thousand of them were rushed almost they could easily swim, without being thrown out of order, through the eye of the finest cambric needle ever made. Yet each of the minute creatures is a highly organized number of particles, capable of moving about, of finding and devouring food and of behaving in all respects as becomes an animal as distinguished from a fragment of unorganized matter." The human mind is utterly incapable of realizing the structure of these little creatures, and of fully appreciating their marvelous adaptation to the life they are destined to lead.

Reputed as Jordan Water.
 It is not generally known that the princes of the house of Hohenzollern are always baptized in water taken from the river Jordan. This custom was observed at the baptism of the youngest-born son of the emperor. An interesting anecdote of the Hohenzollern family, which has always been renowned for its wealth, is that in view of the frequent births in the imperial family, and in order never to run short of the water of the sacred river, a whole barrel of this little creature, and of fully appreciating their marvelous adaptation to the life they are destined to lead.

Depth of the Atlantic.
 Dr. Young estimates the depth of the Atlantic at about an average of 16,000 feet.

Clinton, Missouri.
 Mr. A. L. Armstrong, an old druggist and a prominent citizen of this enterprising town, says: "I sell some forty different kinds of cough medicines, but have never in my experience sold so much of any one article as I have of Ballard's Cough and Croup Syrup. All who use it say it is the most perfect remedy for Cough Cold, Consumption, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, they have over tried." It is especially for Croup and Whooping Cough. It will relieve a Cough in one minute. Contains no opiates.

The army and navy of the Argentine Confederation are kept up at an annual cost of $15,000,000.

LIVING WITH SNAKES.

Keeping the Creatures Alive is a Delicate Task.

An Enthusiast Who Has Visited Every Snake-infested Country to Study the Reptiles—Assisted by His Young Son.

So long as human nature retains its instinctive dislike to anything that crawls or creeps, the practice of keeping snakes is not likely to extend far beyond its present limits. Most people, probably, would find it exceedingly difficult to name anyone addicted to this propensity. Dr. Arthur Stradling, says the London Sketch, declares it to be, in his case, hereditary. His father was fond of snakes, and his son, nine years of age, is devoted to them and experiences absolutely no fear in their presence. How, then, will develop his taste remains to be seen; of the father it may be said that he has devoted the leisure-enforced leisure, it may have been, some of it, for the sake of the cause of a lifetime to the study of snakes. In pursuit of his study, which he himself calls "ophiomania," he has visited every snake-infested country of the globe—unfettered and accompanied by no other person save himself, with a similar object. Having in the tropics lived in constant and close companionship with serpents, it should be still surrounded by them.

"You surmise that the place is always heated?" says the doctor. "On a burning day and night I use naked unventilated gas for warmth, and, as you can see, my reptiles are as healthy as can be. Indeed, I pride myself upon the fact that I rear and keep my delicate species which invariably die in zoological gardens and other menageries. That lizard without legs I have had for thirteen years. You say you fancied you heard the gas escaping? Oh, not that was one of the snakes. He is a hot temper and is being disturbed. Just now I have a particularly good collection of box-tortoises, but rattlesnakes are my 'first love.' I am just beginning to adopt my method of cranking

universally. Anything up to twelve or fourteen feet I can manage single-handed, but in dealing with stock above that length I invoke the assistance of my head keeper, my little boy. A bag is of some service to restrain the movements of the body and render it amenable to control—I once got two ribs broken while manipulating a West African pythoness of sixteen feet. The process is not an elegant one; with half a hundred-weight of live, hot snake-flesh writhing and wringing and grinding one's feet, and with the head and shoulders rolled up and stockinged feet, I grasp the creature just behind the head and separate its jaws by gentle pressure with a silver spatula; its more knack than force, for all snakes are exceedingly sensitive about the mouth—light tap on the muzzle will turn the fiercest of them. Then the assistant goes the hump of meat, dead rat, bird, or whatever the morsel may be, right in among the quivering triple rows of long, curved teeth—positively quivering and 'walking' with the agitation of anger on the mobile jaws—and I push it down to the stomach, first with a ruler, and then by squeezing upon it with my hands from the outside, a mechanical sensation which requires to be maintained for some little time. In order to insure that the item of aliment shall remain in statu quo. In the intervals the youngster is not idle and made plenty of occupation in shifting the reptile's coils and disentangling various parts of me from a too close embrace. And so we fill the beast up until he can hold no more. The funeral was preached at Richman church at 11 o'clock Sunday, the interment taking place at the family burying ground. Deceased leaves a family.
